Precautions to discourage burglars

Pay extra attention to your doors, windows and sliding doors. The door is the most convenient way to intrude into a house. Not always the front door, but more often the back door. 80% of all burglaries are through the door. As well as the strength of the door, high security fittings are of great importance and contribute to the overall security against burglary. Windows and sliding doors are very vulnerable. Solid glass is fundamental but high security fittings are just as important.

A burglar hates 3 things: time wasting, noise and presence of people or animals! Take advantage of this and make it difficult for him.

Keep the street side of your garden open. Hiding becomes more difficult for burglars.

Look at the content of your shed or garage. Often the best tools for a burglar are in there. Lock up and hide everything very carefully.

Don't leave items that could be used for climbing lying around. Put away ladders and garden furniture.

A message of absence is an invitation. Drop it!

Avoid full mailboxes and inform your neighbours of your absence. One good turn deserves another.

Make a full list with photos of your possessions.
